Physical Education Department Announces Purchase of Equipment

MISS FRICK GIVES REGULATIONS IN REGARD TO USE BY ORGANIZATIONS

Making it possible to stage colorful all-college and society parties in the gymnasiums without in any way inconveniencing the work of the physical education department, the Physical Education Department is purchasing footlights, rugs, and decorative curtains which can be used to transform the class laboratories into social rooms, according to an announcement made this week by Miss Frick.

Six flood lights equipped with colored gelatines are to be set into brackets on the level of the balcony. A rug is being purchased to accommodate the orchestra and special light sockets will make shaded lights available for the musicians. Under the edge of the two balconies, curtains will be suspended shutting off all but the first two rows of seats, which will be supplied with slip-on seat covers.

Small Charge
The initial expense in the purchase of this equipment is being taken care of by the department, but by means of a small charge it is hoped that the department will be reimbursed.

The following set of rules have been drawn up regarding the staging of parties in the gymnasiums and the use of the new equipment:

1. Apply to the dean's office for a blank for the usual request for your party.
2. Fill out the blank carefully, giving time, place, equipment desired for the party and faculty or student member who is responsible for it.
3. Get the dean to O. K. your date.
4. Have the blank O. K'd by Miss Frick to make sure the room you want is not in use for some athletic event. (If you can't find her, leave the blank in her mail box with an envelope bearing your own name. She will O. K. the slip and return it to your box.)
5. Take the slip to the registrar's office and pay your fee. The fees are as follows:
 - (a) Lights and rug for orchestra, large or small gym, $1.00. (The lights must be used if you want the rooms)
 - (b) Curtains and colored gelatines for lights $5.00.
6. The registrar will give you a receipt for your treasurer's files and who will stamp your request slip "Paid." Take it to the janitor (Mr. Brown) who will announce a time and place for leaving the slips. He will do the rest—open the doors, turn on lights, give you curtains, and show you how to put them up.
7. When the party is over and all material taken down, the janitor takes down the lights and you help with the curtains, the janitor checks the slip and returns it to the dean.

The lights are available now, and before long the curtains and the rug will be ready for use. A great deal of emphasis is to be placed upon the care which an organization displays in returning the equipment in good shape, otherwise the group may lose its privileges.

Resolutions Adopted At Meeting Attended By MacLean, Gosslee

MEETING OF TEACHERS COLLEGE
BOARD HELD IN DULUTH
SEPTEMBER 12

At the Teachers College Board meeting, held in Duluth, September 12, at which President MacLean and Dr. G. L. Gosslee, resident director, were present, two resolutions which are of interest to students were those regarding admission of students from the teachers college by the university graduate and undergraduate schools, and the education of the unemployed youth in the state.

According to the recommendation by Teachers College Board approved, any student holding a degree from a Teachers College may enter a graduate school, and take graduate courses that will apply on an advanced degree during the probationary period, provided the student is prepared to pursue a graduate minor in one field outside of education. Credits to the undergraduate schools at the University transfer in so far as the subjects transfer from one school to another.

Youth Movement Backed
In addition the Board passed a resolution commending the unemployed youth movement instituted by Governor Floyd B. Olson. It reads as follows: "Whereas there are many young men and women in this state who are not gainfully employed and who are financially unable to take advantage of the educational opportunities otherwise available, and 'Whereas Floyd B. Olson, Governor of Minnesota, has appointed a commission to study ways and means whereby provision for further education may become available to deserving young people, 'Therefore be it resolved that the State Teachers College Board endorse the effort to provide additional education to unemployed youth and offer the facilities of the several State Teachers Colleges in so far as feasible to this movement."

Three new board members, F. A. Sheehan of Winona, Dr. F. A. Baker, Mankato, and James J. Quigley, St. Cloud, attended for the first time. J. T. Devaney, now chief justice of the Minnesota Supreme Court, resigned from the board. Other than the actions described above, the business was of a routine nature, annual reports for the past year being studied.

New Officers Chosen To Head Class Groups During Ensuing Year

HERMAN, RICHARDSON, MONSON, SELECTED AS UPPER CLASS HEADS

Class meetings for the election of the officers for the three upper classes were held in MacLean Hall last Friday. Students representing an extensive array of talent have been chosen to fill these positions.

Erling Herman was selected as the Senior president. He has been prominent in the musical organizations of the College throughout his college career. Herman belongs to the Band, Orchestra, Choir, and the Owl fraternity. James Tye, Backus, is the Senior vice-president for the coming year. Tye has been prominent in the following organizations and activities: Alpha Epsilon fraternity, debate, International Relations Club, and Nancio. Enid Pederson, Moorhead, is the secretary-treasurer of the class. She belongs to the Gamma Nu sorority, French Club, Choir, and the Euterpe Singers.

Orvin Richardson, Nina Jorgensen, and Bernice Cox are the Junior officers for the coming school year. Richardson, who hails from Rosholt, S. D., and who has been out teaching and is back for his degree, is the Junior president. He was active in extra-curricular activities when he was here before and is starting the new year out right by participating again. Richardson was a member of the Owl fraternity, "M" Club, Choir, football team, Nancio, Praeceptor staff, Y. M. C. A.,

besides being both Freshman and Sophomore class officer while he was a member of those classes. Nina Jorgensen, a Pilot, N. D., girl, vice-president, has been active in the following groups in the past: Pi Delta Sigma, Pi Mu Phi, Lambda Phi Sigma, Orchestra, and Glee Club. Bernice Cox of Moorhead, will be the treasurer of the Junior class this year. She has belonged to the following organizations: Alpha, International Relations Club, Lambda Phi Sigma, Alpha Psi Omega, Country Life Club, Rho Lambda Chi, Glee Club, MiSTiC and Praeceptor staffs.

M. Monson Milo Monson of Cass Lake, seems to be following his brother's footsteps after a fashion, inasmuch as his brother was president of the Sophomore class last year. During his Freshman year at college he was out for football and he is out again this year. Mildred Lee of Madison, was selected as the Sophomore vice-president for the coming year. She has been very active during her one year in college. Luverne Lewis, Hawley, is the Sophomore treasurer for the coming year.

The Freshmen met at an earlier date and chose temporary class officers. Permanent class officers will be elected at a later date. Adolph Sorenson of Hallock, is the president; Margaret Vowles of Moorhead, Secretary; and William Wallace of Fargo has been selected as the treasurer.

Gordon Hanson Named to Position as Father Owl

Gordon Hanson, Kennedy, was named to the post of Father Owl at the annual election of the Owl fraternity last Wednesday.

Other officers named were as follows: Monk, Wilson Dokken, Thief River Falls; scribe, Russell Monson, Cass Lake; inner guardian, Wilbur Bailey, Erskine; outer guardian, George Meyers, Frazee; guardian angel, James Blaine, Frazee; and secretary-treasurer, John Chisolm, Bessemer, Michigan.

Spirited Dragon Grid Team to Face Strong Duluth Teachers Eleven in Opening Game Of Northern Teachers College Conference

Coach Nemzek Predicts Tough Opening Game Against Team Which Upset Dragons Last Year; Minor Injuries Hamper Practice Sessions During Week.

With a competitive spirit that is leading itself to much more spirited play than in former years, the Dragon football team, under the direction of Coach Alex "Sliv" Nemzek and assistants Gilpin and Booher, hope for a decisive win in their opening encounter against Duluth on the Dragon Memorial field tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. "The encounter with Duluth will be a very strong opening game but will not take so much out of the players as the tough opening game against North Dakota University last fall," says Coach Nemzek.

Minor injuries retarded the work of the team this week, but there is a probability that every man will be ready for action in Saturday's game. Captain Jim Blaine has been kept out of practice because of a back injury, while Frank Marconeri has been laid up with a chest injury. Walsh McCormick has a bad ankle and it is doubtful if this trio will be used in Saturday's game. Because of a slight injury, Wayne Stephens may be used sparingly in the opening encounter.

Bjerkness to End

In order to get more weight at the end positions, Coach Nemzek has shifted Bjerkness, a guard, to this position. Neil Wohlwend, freshman end, has shown up well lately and may get the call to the other end assignment. The starting tackles will be selected from Schranz, Bailey, and Joe Brula while either Captain Jim Blaine, McAllister, Chisolm, or Red Monson will get first call for the guard positions. Bob Marquardt will be given first chance at the center position while Pete Meyers, who has shown up well at this position lately, will undoubtedly see considerable action. Art Berlin, a freshman, also looks good at the center position.

In order to have experienced men in at the opening of the game, Coach Nemzek plans to start the backfield from last spring's practice. Either Scheela or John Nemzek will be at the signal calling post, while Hollister and Edlund will start at the halfback assignment, and Ruegamer will get the initial call at the fullback position.

Serbin Looks Good

Serbin, the big fullback from Bessemer, Michigan, has been showing up stronger as practice goes along and (Continued on Page 4)

Members of Choir Named by Director

The Chapel Choir, under the direction of Daniel L. Preston, made its first appearances at the Wednesday chapel programs. The principal duty for the choir this first term, according to the director, is to take part in these performances and to start the memorization of a program for the winter season.

"The choir this year should be one of the best we've had," stated Mr. Preston. Although exactly half of last year's chorus has either graduated or has not returned, this will not be as big a handicap as it was last year. The incoming material is quite far advanced, so most of the time can be spent on the songs themselves instead of fundamentals, as was done in the past.

Invocation Change

Another change this year is the invocation, used at the beginning of Wednesday's Chapel. Following is the personnel of the choir: Sopranos: Florence Williams, Lucille Weir, Mary Russell, Ruth Headland, June Setterland, Grace Van Zant, Jenny Williams, Zurella Muralt, Vivian Rauk, Jean Thomson, and Lucille Sandanger. Altos: Evelyn McGrann, Betty Henderson, Eleanor Stengelin, Joan Storrs, Adele Jensen. Jessamine Colehour, Martha Atkinson, and Myrtle Mostrom.

The tenors are Lawrence Peterson, Webster Rowan, Rolland Williams, Jules Herman, Dale Hallack, Walter Severson, Thomas Prickett, and Reynold Christensen.

Expect to Finish Campus Paving Work Inside of Two Weeks

LANDSCAPING TO BEGIN WHEN PAVING IS DONE; GATE
PLANS MADE

The College Campus paving project will be practically completed within the next two weeks if the present rate of pouring the concrete can be maintained. Approximately 3,000 yards of pavement and almost as many yards of sidewalk are being laid by the Victor Carlson and Sons Contracting company.

The landscaping of the northwest corner of the campus will be done as soon as the paving in that section is completed. The work of breaking up the concrete of the old street is under way and will be followed in rapid succession by other phases of the landscaping plan.

Material Awaited

As soon as the material for the gateway entrance arrives, work on the project will begin. Kasota stone from the quarries for the eight piers. The to be used for the eight piers. The two main pillars are to be fourteen feet, seven inches in height, and three feet square. Special aluminum lanterns, three feet high, are to be placed on top of these two main columns. The space between various parts of these pillars will be bridged by ornamental iron work. The over-all width of the gateway is to be 120 feet.

Upon various faces of the piers will appear suitable inscriptions, some carved directly into the stone and others upon bronze tablets. The words "STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE," will appear upon the west faces of the two main piers. The south pier, east side, will bear a part of the Alma Mater: "Buildd our fathers a school to stand through years to be; that through her portals her sons and daughters might go forth throughout the nation—till the truth be spead that sets men free."

Decide Inscriptions

The words "Pledge we heart and mind and soul to her we love—Our Alma Mater" will be set upon the east side of the north pier. The west face, north pier, will carry the following: "An institution established by the commonwealth of Minnesota for the education of its citizens." A short distance below this, and upon the same face will appear "And the truth shall make you free."

Sigma Tau Delta To Meet At Shoreham October 1

An adjourned meeting of Mu Gamma chapter, Sigma Tau Delta, will be held on October 1 at Miss Hayes' cottage at Shoreham, Miss Hayes entertaining for the group. The local chapter of the national English fraternity, called to order Thursday by Elaine Magnusson, decided to sponsor again the literary supplement to the MiSTiC. Other plans were discussed.

PLEASE NOTE

LET'S BE THERE

Tomorrow afternoon marks the entrance of the Moorhead State Teachers College Dragons into the second annual grid-iron campaign for the honor of the championship of the Northern Teachers College Conference.

Last year the Dragons were forced to share the championship with Mankato and St. Cloud because of a defeat at the hands of tomorrow's opponents, Duluth Teachers.

Tomorrow the Band will make its first appearance of the year, the Pep Squad will begin active functioning at the game, new cheer leaders will be on hand to perform, and a football team under the tutelage of Coach "Sliv" Nemzek will most certainly make its presence felt.

Naturally it is expected that all students of the college will be there, not only to get some use out of their activity tickets, but also to supply the background for a joyous afternoon of stellar performance.

Let us, as students, join with the team, the band, and the pep squad tomorrow, under the banner of the Crimson Dragon, so that we may be able to honestly say, "We do our part."

From The Editor's Semicircle

The number of persons trying out for the Dramatic Club indicates that we are not to be hindered by a dearth of material. More power to them!

How many of the College women are aware of the fact that the W. A. A. stands for Women's Athletic Association and that the winning of one hundred points in any outside sport admits one to membership?

What a Paradise Cuba would be for the political parties of the United States. The Democrats, Republicans, Farmer-Laborites, etc., could each have a president for a week at a time—just long enough to boast about it and not long enough to break campaign promises!

May we suggest that the advertisers in the MiSTiC are very likely to appreciate the patronage of M. S. T. C. students.

There's a great opportunity for someone commercially-minded to make some "chicken-feed" by renting out typewriters to the students.

Yesterday was Minnesota Day at the World's Fair. Tomorrow will be M. S. T. C. Day at Memorial Field.

This is the kind of weather about which an optimist remarks, "Have you ever seen such a glorious Fall?" and the pessimist, "Winter will be here soon. The leaves are already falling."

The party tonight means just what it says "All College." Everybody comes.

Have you acquired the habit of reading the Daily News? If not, take off a few minutes everyday and browse around in the newspaper room of the Library.

Absence makes the heart grow fonder" does not apply in the case of unexcused absences.

With regular chapel only once a week, and with indications of better chapel speakers than ever before, students should show their appreciation by one hundred per cent attendance.

There are coal codes, hotel codes, meatpackers' codes, merchants' codes, etc., but where, oh where, is the teachers' code?

TENNIS COURTS

We have a truly wonderful institution. New buildings, a highly efficient staff of teachers, and what promises to become one of the most beautiful campuses of which any college in this part of the country can boast, all contribute to bear out the truth of this assertion.

It takes money, a good deal of money, to make possible buildings such as MacLean Hall and the Training School. It also takes money to create a beautiful campus, move away old buildings, tear up and reset sidewalks, and lay blocks of new paving. We students of this college are grateful to the state for making possible these new halls of learning and this beautiful vista of landscape.

But to this writer as well as to numerous, sundry, and varied students upon the campus who have discussed the question with him, it seems that something is lacking.

You guessed it—we have no tennis courts. That there is a need for tennis courts has been shown repeatedly by the great number of students, both men and women, who have taken part in the school tournaments during the past two years. That there is a need for hard courts has been demonstrated through the poor condition in which the students have so often found the courts that have been so recently removed.

These courts should not be too difficult to obtain. Less than one thousand dollars would provide four well-built hard-surfaced courts, enough courts to adequately care for our needs for several years. Furthermore these courts would require little or no outlay for upkeep.

Finally then, tennis courts are needed; hard courts are the most desirable; they should not be too difficult to get or too expensive. What is holding us up?

LIBRARY ETIQUETTE

Earmarks of a well-bred student:

1. When he gets up from a study table, he always pushes his chair back in place.
2. He does not eat candy, peanuts, or his lunch in the library.
3. He does not leave scraps of paper on the floor or table to mark his trail. He knows the use of a waste basket.
4. He supplies his own ink, pencil, ruler and personal needs and does not expect the librarian to supply his lacks.
5. He obeys the imperative rule of every library, "Silence." Visiting, committee meetings, etc., are held elsewhere. The library is not a nursery, ladies' aid, or bachelors' club.
6. In asking for a book, he gives author, title, and call number which can be obtained from the card catalogue. He knows how to acquaint himself with the resources of the library through the catalog, or if he does not know how to use it, he courteously asks the librarian to explain its use to him.
7. He remembers to say "thank you" for a book given him and help rendered.
8. When he takes a book or magazine from the shelf he puts it back in the right place.
9. He regards free text books as a great privilege and does not mutilate them with pencil or ink marks. He does not break the binding by jamming it full of old papers, notebooks, pencils and fountain pens.
10. When a book is overdue, he returns it in person, waits until the book is discharged, pays the fine or makes some arrangement to take care of it. He does not expect the library to adjust its rule to suit his personal convenience or private schedule.
11. He has no book in his possession which has not been properly checked out at the Loan Desk.
12. He keeps track of all books charged to him, and if he loses them, accepts the loss of his own responsibility.
13. He spends much time browsing in the stacks to acquaint himself with the resources of the library and for his own personal enjoyment.
14. He appreciates the fact that the library has a specific place in the life of the college. It is a place that belongs to him as long as he does not violate its laws. It is his personal retreat—a place to study by himself, to use its books, and its unlimited resources. He

Solar Theories of Copernicus, Ptolemy Fail to Arouse Interest of Canine Visitor

The theory of Copernicus is of interest to astronomers, to science teachers, and supposedly to students. It is not, however, of interest to dogs.

That particular nameless tail-wagger who invaded Mr. Ballard's Nature Study class this week was a friendly and inquisitive being. Led on by curiosity, he licked the stones and fossils, which we fear, have a number of conglomerous scientific names; he beamed upon the students and with solemn, wondering eyes, studied their learned instructor from every angle. But no sooner had the instructor advanced into the depths of a discussion concerning the difference between the Solar Theories of Ptolemy and of Copernicus, than the young visitor heaved over upon his side, admitting a rueful sigh which, trailing off into a yawn, left many a student glancing askance at the enticing comfort of regular, long-drawn-out snores.

With the intuition of a born teacher, Mr. Ballard remembered his Laws of psychology—we learn by observing, then doing.

"I greatly fear," said he, "that this will have a bad effect upon my class." Outside of the classroom the dog waited, not for the theories of Ptolemy, but for some janitor who knew the art of opening doors.

After the football scrimmage last week one was reminded of a certain song—"Just a Little Home for the Old Folks."

Mr. Preston (calling roll for the Chapel Choir): Song? Is Foster Song present?

Someone in the rear (probably Larry Peterson) begins singing, "Without a Song!"

Bailey: This assignment is as clear as mud.

Teacher: Well, it covers the ground, doesn't it?

They are still telling us that prosperity is just around the corner. Maybe the reason we can't find it is that there are too many "No Left Turn" signs.

If the Freshmen feel young and discouraged at the prospect of four more years of studying, how about the poor little kindergarteners who are just starting out?

What with the sale of the Dragon stickers, Homecoming will be here soon! Hooray!

How about it? At the Sunlight Social there are ever so many girls who are just crazy to dance. Where are the men of the college? Are they afraid or indifferent? Let's have a better turn out. Even if you are a toe-dancer come along.

With a newly-organized Pep Squad there won't be any noise lacking at the games.

Tomorrow our boys will have a chance to show us just what they have been learning every night out there on the field. Boy! We hope they show Duluth too!

feels a personal pride in it. He regards the librarian not as a mind reader but as the agent who is ever ready to aid him and to establish the connection between the reader and the resources at her command.

These are the standards by which a well-bred student is judged. Are you going to be tried and found wanting? —E. L.

RELIGIOUS ORGANIZATIONS

Heading one of the religious groups of the campus, but taking the liberty to speak for all of them, the writer takes this means to remind, and also to invite the students, particularly the Freshmen and others new to the campus, to join one organization this year which is religious in nature. Four separate and distinct campus groups are functioning at present; the Newman club for the Catholic students, the Lutheran Students Association for the Lutherans, and the Young Women's Christian Association and the Young Men's Christian Association for any and all who are interested.

Connection with a religious group is desirable as it offers a positive program designed to teach the ideals that go to make character. Each of the group seek to develop a balanced personality through mental training, religious idealism, and social fellowship.

Some of the groups, if not all, meet next Tuesday evening. Select the one best suited to your individual taste, and make it a point to be there, not only at the first meeting but at every meeting.

The organizations need you, and you need the organizations.

Then And Now

One Year Ago

The Dragons made ea trip to Grand Forks to play their opening game with the University of North Dakota—Tomorrow the opening game is with Duluth State Teachers College on the Moorhead field.

Two Years Ago

Positions for the Praeceptor have been filled according to tryouts conducted last week. Evelyn Cook heads the staff as editor-in-chief.—Try-outs on Monday decided the final positions for this year's staff.

Three Years Ago

A request for an increased appropriation for the new buildings was made by the State Board for the college.—This year the appropriation for the completion of the landscaping of the campus has been made.

Four Years Ago

The Western Division of the M. E. A. is to be held on the Teachers College Campus from October 17 to 19.—This year the M. E. A. will again meet here, on October 12, 13, and 14.

Five Years Ago

Plans are being made and a tentative schedule has been arranged for Homecoming November 2 and 3.—Homecoming this year will be November 4 and the Student Commission is making plans for a real celebration.

I'm Telling You

What's in a name. This Freshman Glass certainly doesn't live like his name implies. Keep your eye on him in the game tomorrow. Can he take it?

While on the subject of football, we note that the assistant coach does a little night work with "Slive's" new secretary.

No one can say that our coeds are not up to date. They've even taken up cycling, some going so far as motor-cycling. Well! Well!

Hail! Alma Mammy! Our own Bill Robinson is back. He told me to tell all youse gals. Just in case you didn't know.

And then there was the football player who got under the wrong heat lamp and got sunburnt. Try slapping the boys on the back and you'll find him.

It is going to be one "hot" game tomorrow. A revenge for the fluke defeat last year. And am I going to be present. Yowah!

I heard this from a couple at social hour:

Coed: When I'm dancing with you, it's like dancing on clouds.

Ed: Yeah, but that's not clouds, it's my feet.

It seems that our first Chapel has had quite a lasting effect on us. Not many have volunteered to "hold up the building" during free periods. Maybe they go home and sleep during those periods.

Then, there is the little Freshie who saw the notice for the Student Commission meeting and said shyly, "I wonder if that means me."

TO THE MEN

The Student Commission requests that all men of the college cooperate in eliminating the the practice of wearing the letters of other schools while on the campus. Letters must be removed from the sweaters, but the sweaters may be worn. Absolute observance of this ruling is requested.

College High School Educational Groups Hold First Meetings

College High Gridders to Face Hawley Tomorrow

After only a week of practice, a light but hard-fighting football squad from College High went down to defeat at the hands of a heavy veteran squad from Mahnomen, 53-0. Undaunted by this setback, Coach Chet Gilpin is hard at work rounding his squad into shape for a game to be played with Hawley High School tomorrow. Although the squad is green and hampered by injuries, Coach Gilpin expects them to give a good account of themselves in their next game.

Martindale Receives Huge Ovation from Students in Chapel

AIRHEART TO SPEAK NEXT WEEK; PHILIPS, GARNIS LISTED FOR PROGRAMS

(By Margaret Evje)

Witnessing a reception such as few chapel speakers receive, Major Philip Martindale, Chief Ranger of the Yellowstone National Park, spun his tales of wild life during chapel exercises Wednesday and, in addition, received permission from President MacLean to hold the fascinated students over-time, to the unspeakable delight of all eleven o'clock classes.

Appearing on the platform in the ranger uniform and gesticulating with a rod which, we assume, has often conveyed deep meaning to grizzly bears, Major Martindale set an example of admirable poise and freedom. Such a self-confident bearing as his must have come less from his contact with over four hundred college audiences than from his constant opportunity to match the kingly qualities of the grizzly and to measure up to the height of Old Faithful.

Stories Thrilling

Major Martindale's stories of ranger life and of the sights of Yellowstone Park, of the great geysers, the fossil beds, the birds, and the beasts, which include the bears, were vivid and thrilling, drawn from a rich experience and lightened by a humor that won his audience.

Other such treats, our chapel program tells us, have been scheduled during the fall term. Next Wednesday brings us Dr. Walter Lee Airheart, head of the Wesley School of Religion at the North Dakota A. C. On October 11 will appear the State Commissioner of Education, E. M. Philips, and on October 18 a famous dramatic reader, John Seaman Garnis.

Said one upper classman to another when speaking of the coming of John Seaman Garnis, "You must have skipped chapel the other time he was here because if you hadn't you would the next two weeks if the present rate have heard him. You couldn't have slept."

Christensen Talks at Schoolmasters' Club

A. L. Frederickson, Dilworth, Heads Club; Archer Re-elected

Featuring the first meeting of the Schoolmaster's Study Club held Wednesday evening in the Graystone Hotel at Detroit Lakes, Mr. Christensen of the College, discussed "Student Participation in School Control," and officers for the present school year were elected.

A. L. Frederickson of Dilworth, was elected president; P. J. Hanson, Hitterdal, vice-president; and Dr. C. P. Archer of the College was reelected secretary-treasurer. The meeting of the Minnesota Educational Association to be held at the college on October 12-13, and the possible application of the NRA to school janitors were also discussed.

The next meeting, to be held in Weld Hall at the College on Friday, October 13, will honor E. M. Phillips, State Commissioner of Education. Sixty-seven were present at the Wednesday event.

undoubtedly will be used a large part of the game. Because Coach Nemzek wants a great deal of drive at the fullback post, Walsh McCormick is also being groomed for this position. McCormick, besides having a great deal of drive, is also a good punter. Glass and Burke, two promising freshmen, may see some halfback duty in Saturday's game. Coach Nemzek has another capable backfield ensemble composed of Ross Stephens or Spencer Jones at quarterback, Johnson at the driving position, and Alden Christianson at one halfback post and either McLeerie or Schleuter at the other halfback position.

Lewis Ducharme, prominent athlete from Barnesville, has been out for practice under Coach Nemzek's tutelage for the past week. As soon as Ducharme works into the system of play he will undoubtedly have his position on the squad.

Twenty-five men will be carried as the regular squad, and because of the long season there is a possibility for all of the boys to win letters this year.

Football lettermen who are candidates are: Bud Ruegamer, Manhattan, Montana; Joe Edlund, Fergus Falls; and Johnny Nemzek, Moorhead, backs. "Tugboat Annie" To Be Feature At Moorhead

Marie Dressler and Wallace Beery, two movie favorites, will be featured in "Tugboat Annie" at the Moorhead Theater Sunday. Combining the funny with the drastic, this movie is gaining the popular approval attained by the previous Dressler-Beery pictures. "Tugboat Annie" is dramatized from Norman Reilly Raine's story which appeared in the Saturday Evening Post.

Pep Fest Held Thursday For Duluth Encounter

To the satisfaction of some and the disappointment of others, candy was served the first 100 "children" as Mr. Christensen directed the Dragon Band in opening the Pep Feast preliminary to the Duluth game with the playing of "The Line-up March," last night in Weld Hall. Amid the profusion of candy wrappers, and the smacking of lips, Florence Johnk led the first yell of the Pep Fest.

Dr. Archer displayed some interesting pictures of last year's football games. The next number was a talk by Coach "Chet" Gilpin who talked on the fine school spirit displayed at the Pep Fest. Talks were also given by Miss Frick and Henry Booher, one of last year's star players who is assisting Mr. Nemzek with the training of the team.

The Pep Fest was brought to a close by the singing of songs by the student body which were led by the "Dragon Band."

W.A.A. Names Heads Of Fall Activities

Hiking, under the direction of Marcella Rutten, hockey, with Margaret Johnson as leader; swimming, with Naomi Vinette in charge; and kickball, in charge of Grace Meland, have been named as the fall sports of the Women's Athletic Association.

Each of these activities make it possible for women of the College to earn a certain number of points toward qualification for membership in the W. A. A.
